With the Utah Wildlife Migration Initiative, Daniel and his team use state-of-the-art technology to identify: migration and movement patterns, wildlife stopover sites, priority areas that can reconnect fragmented habitat ranges, and locations that allow wildlife species to safely move from one area to another.